Hear From Students Just Like You

Xavier

Xavier has a passion for computer coding. Our Home School academy gave him the flexibility and the budget to participate in coding classes and competitions. He recently won third place in a “hackathon” for his game, Shark Defense! Read more about his talents on our website.

Clara

Clara has been with Visions since Kindergarten and has taken full advantage of the balance and flexibility homeschooling provides by developing her interests and talents. Using her love for music and math she won an award for her Fibonacci Sequence project. Read more here about how homeschooling has helped her excel.

Chris

Chris wanted the freedom to manage his own schedule and the ability to focus on learning subjects that interested him. Chris graduated in 2010 and is now earning his Ph.D while working with the Naval Research Laboratory on robot teams and GPS programming! Read more here.
