

My artist Artist tag is #humanityslasth0pe zero for an o as in none of none Because you are one of a hope that the world will be a better place
The hope that we will be able to create a better space
That we can erase our dark history like they erased our bright and replace it
With light

Money grow on trees
but only after those workers
Worked on and built those machines
That print paper press that money
That green but green like artificial not like the air we breathe
Did you plant your seeds ?
Remember to water them and replenish the soil it needs
And your trees will sprout
Little funny looking plants will spring about Water them and love them with your words

You are going to be the tallest tree to see the earth
You will be able to see all that its worth

You can rip a paper dollar in half
You can melt a dime
You can wipe away the rhymes
But this story is still mine
Pay attention this time

What would your family do for you? What would you do for them
What type of wounds would your learn to mend
If it meant in the end you could keep your friends
If you could save a life, or if your time was right, if you could have said more words

My favorite people are the ones I don't talk to because I'm afraid
They will look at me they way you do
You have no clue how much I love you

Push ups do not only make you stronger
They make you forget the pain of the past
You will not break like a glass table you are able to do what a brick wall can You woman, can and might be stronger than a man
And no that is not to hurt you mens pride
Put that aside
Go inside and learn to clean

Learn a routine
Know what running a household means because
You will be the head of one when you finally plant those seeds

Do whatever I can even if it means just using a trash grabber to put trash in a trash can Hand in hand in hand in hand in hand
Together we stand

Practice your ways

Stays and goes touch your head
Shoulders knees and toes
That's how the old rhyme goes
Here's a new one

You are worth a million and a ton you are not the only one
And the struggle will one day be done you've completed step one
Your time here is finished your crown is won

In highschool i said hello to everyone i would meet
Life skill i took with me
Even though my hello was probably the extent of my speech
I mean i was nervous you couldn't talk to me
But here i am and you know where i be
But you know what i mean
Know that what you are feeling underneath is real Feel how you feel
Do not appeal to the likes of others
Pull off the covers
The monsters do not want to face you
They want to erase you
Outstage you replace your mind
Take your time away
So at Night and day we pray and you wield your powers as you meant to Mend into you
